Twin Tiers Landowners Coalition Open Office, Plan Open House

Mike White, one of the principals in the Twin Tiers Landowners Coalition (TTLC) announced the opening of the TTLC headquarters at 31 Main Street in Addison, NY.

“In an effort to better serve our landowners, we have established an office in Addison where landowners can come in to meet Phil Knapp and me, and where we can answer any questions that they may have as we move forward,” said Mr. White. The office contains regulatory documents and interesting exhibits and pictures concerning oil and natural gas drilling including the Marcellus formation.

Beginning March 30, the TTLC office will be open Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays from 6-9 pm and on Saturdays from 9 am until 3 pm.

“On Saturday, April 17, we will host a Grand Opening with snacks and beverages at our regular hours of 9 am to 3 pm. We encourage all of our friends and neighbors to attend along with any landowners interested in joining the Coalition,” Mr. White said.

TTLC has developed an extensive website at www.twintlc.com to provide information on Marcellus development both in Pennsylvania and New York along with the objectives and philosophy of the Coalition through the viewpoints of its professional consultants.

“We see the establishment of our office as an extension of our efforts to reach out to landowners, to provide information for informed decisions, and to complement our website. We want our landowners to want us to represent them without cost or obligation. That is our overall goal,” said Mr. White.
